

Cub Scout Position Trainings

Cub Scout Position Training is essential and therefore required for all registered Leaders. The trainings are broken down by position: Cubmaster and Assistant Cubmaster, Den Leader, and Pack Committee Challenge. Unless you have a plan for a specific new parent's position, we recommend they attend the Pack Committee Challenge. These trainings provide specific position training and Q&A geared to help new leaders and parents understand how to create a successful experience for their Scouts. These sessions will allow you to learn how a Den & Pack meeting should operate and what your Scouts should be doing to succeed! This is a great opportunity for existing Pack Leadership as well.

Cub Scout Leader Training is up to 3 hours long and the cost is Free! Choose from 9 available dates, both during the week as well as weekends to fit into your busy schedule! So sign up and learn the essentials needed for your Cub Scout to succeed!

Trained Leadership: Additional Required and Supplemental Trainings

Basic Adult Leader Outdoor Orientation (BALOO): This day-long training provides the Cub Scout leader with the basic skills and information needed to have a successful Pack Campout. In order for a Pack to have a campout IT IS REQUIRED that at least one person in the Pack has completed this training. It is a great day of learning and fun. You will learn different techniques for cooking food outside, as well as camping equipment considerations, how to plan your trip, and more! The training goes from about 8:30 am to 5:00 pm.

Scheduled for

- October 14, 2017 at the L.E. Phillips Scout Reservation
- November 4, 2017 at Camp Brunswick

Outdoor Leader Skills for WEBELOS/Boy Scout Leaders (OWL/OLS): A weekend or weeknight training designed to give the Scouting volunteers all the skills necessary to provide outdoor programming for the youth in your Den, Pack or Troop. Learn the basic outdoor skills covered in the Webelos and Arrow of Light Adventures as well as other basics skills to help prepare your WEBELOS for Boy Scouting.

Training typically goes from 8 am Saturday to 12 noon Sunday; also can be earned during the week of summer camp at Camp Phillips or through a series of weeknights in Spring.

- Weekend Class: October 14-15, 2017 at L.E. Phillips Scout Reservation
- Evening Class: Spring 2018
- Camp Phillips: Offered each week at Camp, 9am - noon, Monday - Friday

E.D.G.E.: Looking to further develop your presentation skills for Pack, Troop, or Committee meetings (or any other venue requiring public speaking)? Then this is the training for you. Join us to learn tips and tricks for effective presentations following the format of "Explain, Demonstrate, Guide, Enable." Stay tuned for upcoming training dates and locations.

All these trainings can be found on the Council website as well as the Council Calendar. As the trainings near, additional information with specifics will be made available through emails, mailings, and the BSA Today. In addition there are many supplemental trainings available online at www.scouting.org.

Leave No Trace: Participants will identify personal nature awareness and stewardship goals. Advanced skills, but simple ones, will be learned to ensure a minimum-impact (Leave No Trace) experience on all outdoor experiences.

Training is effective for adults and youth within all families of the Boy Scouts of America: Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, Varsity Scout Teams, Venturing Crews, and Explorer Posts.

Trainings are offered during summer camp, Merit Badge Universities, and if your Pack is interested can be taught by request. Please contact Council Service Center at 715-831-6671.
